Volunteer at Poole Museum, Poole Arts Service and Poole Libraries

Culture Volunteers Poole are a small, dedicated team providing a volunteering programme of cultural opportunities to help make our cultural services excellent.

We have various opportunities in the Arts, Museums and Libraries in Poole for you to get involved in. These opportunities can be one-off events such as festival stewarding or events assistants, or can be on a more regular basis such as weekly digitizing and archiving, or monthly assistance with social media and newsletters.

We don't have a one-size-fits-all approach so if you have specific skills or ideas, please tell us about them, and we may be able to create a role to suit you.

Click here to view our current opportunities or contact us at culturevolunteers@poole.gov.uk or on 01202 262608.

Sea Music Social Media Ambassador - The duties of the Social Media Ambassador is to gain a good understanding and interest in the Sea Music sculpture and its creator Sir Anthony Caro. They will then use their knowledge to promote the sculpture via social media to help a wider audience understand, respect and appreciate it. These may incorporate Facebook, Pintrest or Twitter.

Please email seamusic@poole.gov.uk for more details.
